Delivering exceptional investment outcomes inspires everything we do

Canada Life Investment Management Ltd. (CLIML) is Canada Life's very own investment management company. We've built a new website for CLIML that offers a centralized digital experience, giving you access to details on our investment managers, funds and the investment strategies available across Canada Life's comprehensive suite of investment products and portfolio solutions. We'll continue to work with advisors like you across the country to offer not just the right solutions, but also the insights needed to navigate new market realities.

Canada Life Investment Management

CLIML brings together leading investment managers from around the world to offer you a comprehensive selection of investment products and portfolio solutions. We established CLIML as part of the agreement to sell our Canadian asset management subsidiary, GLC Asset Management Group Ltd., to Mackenzie Financial Corporation. With this transaction now closed, we're proud to announce that we've built a truly global investment platform that draws on several management styles, investment philosophies and risk management strategies. This is another positive step forward as we sharpen our focus and continue to enhance our wealth business, making it easier for you and your clients to succeed with us.

Check back as we continue to add new features, so you can stay ahead of what's happening and focus on finding the right fund solutions for your clients.
